- Unless advertiser/agency instructs otherwise, EHS Today will continue to run creative that is already on file for a campaign for each of the campaign’s placements. Of course, advertiser/agency is always free to submit new creative (or modify existing creative) for upcoming placements at any time prior to the creative deadlines.
- Bills Rendered: On or around the 29th of the month in which the placement runs.

- It is the advertiser’s/agency’s obligation to submit advertising materials in accordance with EHS Today’s existing criteria or specifications (including content limitations, technical specifications and material due dates) as posted on EHS Today’s website at the time of the signing of the IO. If advertising materials are late, Advertiser is still responsible for the media purchased pursuant to IO.
- When submitting e-mail copy, advertisers and agencies are advised that Microsoft Word is not an acceptable format for sending text, since it may insert automatic formatting that causes problems in mail servers. EHS Today is not liable for poor or improper display of any text that an advertiser or agency has prepared in Microsoft Word.

Notification will come from EHS Today to the addresses on the IO. Said contactees will be responsible for notifying EHS Today when the error is fixed, at which point EHS Today will restore the campaign within one business day.
